

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING, M.E.

Admissions Requirements

The admission process for the M.E. program in Mechanical Engineering is highly competitive. Admission decisions are based on the quality of the applicant's previous university-level academic work as reflected by grade point average or GPA, letters of recommendations, GRE scores, and other evidence of past accomplishments.

The GRE is required for applicants not meeting these requirements.

International applicants must also submit TOEFL or the IELTS Intl. Academic Course Type 2 exam scores. The minimum required TOEFL and IELTS scores are set by the graduate school and can be found here: <https://academicbulletins.sc.edu/graduate/>
