

DATA AND COMMUNICATION, CERTIFICATE

Data driven decisions, data-based strategies, and digital storytelling are essential skills for communication professionals. This flexible online certificate is aimed at professionals who want to enhance their career with skills needed to analyze, understand, and communicate data using current and future technologies such as Artificial Intelligence (AI) to make meaningful impact in their workplaces and society.