PHARMACEUTICAL SCIENCES, PH.D.

Learning Outcomes

- 1. Students will demonstrate knowledge and application of the theories, principles, and methods underlying the pharmaceutical sciences.
- 2. Students will be able to identify pertinent research problems and formulate a research plan.
- 3. Students will critically analyze relevant literature and communicate scientific findings through oral presentations.
- 4. Students will generate and analyze original research and communicate findings to the scientific community.