Comprehensive Assessment

All candidates for a Master's degree must complete a comprehensive assessment requiring a student to synthesize and integrate knowledge acquired in coursework and other learning experiences and to apply theory and principles in a situation that approximates some aspect of professional practice or research in the discipline. It must be used as a means by which faculty judge whether the student has mastered the body of knowledge and can demonstrate proficiency in the required competencies. The assessment will be accomplished through completion of LAWH 755 Directed Independent Study which requires completion of a significant paper or equivalent project. Projects must reflect significant work in addressing a hypothetical or real issue involving legal compliance or health law or policy.
