NEUROSCIENCE MINOR

Application

Students must complete an application and qualify for the neuroscience minor. Applications can be submitted any time after their first year of college (30 credit hours must be completed in residency at the University of South Carolina, Columbia Campus). Normally, students will be expected to have at least a 3.30 UofSC system grade point average. Applications will be evaluated by the co-directors of the Neuroscience Minor and they will be judged on overall academic merit. Application forms can be obtained from the Departments of Psychology and Biological Sciences and from the neuroscience minor web page.
