RENAISSANCE STUDIES MINOR

The Renaissance studies minor provides an interdisciplinary approach to understanding a vibrant and complex time in human history. Course offerings include art history, classics, political science, dance and literature, among other topics. Students have flexibility to choose from areas most relevant to their interests and academic goals. For students considering graduate school, the minor offers many advantages. The courses cover substantive topics and provide training in academic skills and methods, such as writing, analysis and research. This minor complements many primary areas of study, such as art or architecture, English, history, theater, political science and more.
