

ART STUDIO, B.A.

The studio art degree is a well-rounded major that offers a solid foundation in seven areas of concentration: graphic design and illustration, ceramics, drawing, painting, photography, printmaking and 3D studies. This degree is also ideal for students interested in double-majoring, combining art with a variety of other fields of study, such as history, business, languages and cultures, global studies and more.

Students pursuing the art studio degree will gain technical skills and an understanding of the principals of visual organization in order to communicate through multiple art media. Critical theory and art history inform students' understanding of artistic precedents, which students articulate through their 2D and 3D artwork.

Learning Outcomes

1. Students must possess the technical skills, perceptual development, and understanding of principles of visual organization sufficient to achieve basic visual communication and expression in multiple media.
2. Demonstrate technical proficiency in each discipline.
3. Conceptualize ideas through visual media.
4. Articulate the relevance of critical theory and art historical precedents.
5. B.A. Studio Art undergraduate students will demonstrate their aesthetic literacy through their 2D and 3D artwork.
