

GRADUATION WITH LEADERSHIP DISTINCTION AND EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING COURSES

True learning extends beyond the classroom. At the University of South Carolina we strongly encourage participation in extensive, purposeful engagement beyond the classroom, understanding of course concepts in “real world” settings, and application of learning to make decisions and solve problems.

Below is a list courses that will apply to Graduation with Leadership Distinction in one of five pathways:

1. Community Service
2. Diversity and Social Advocacy
3. Global Learning
4. Professional and Civic Engagement
5. Research

Courses that are designated as an Experiential Learning Opportunity (ELO) are also listed. ELO courses enable students to apply their in-class learning to real-world situations. As students transfer their knowledge to settings outside the classroom, they apply their skills in new contexts to solve novel and complex problems.
